BOCK CEMETERY
Vermilion County (Near) Grape Creek, Illinois.

Compiled by (Miss) Bertram French Chairman of the Genealogical Research Committee of Governor Bradford Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution
Danville, Illinois.

(Completed by Florence Burt Launer, Chairman of

BOCK CEMETERY

One of the oldest cemeteries in Vermilion County. Located some 3 or 4 miles east and south of Grape Creek, on a gravel road. It is about 1/2 mile north of the M. E. Chapel Maurey. It is still used for burial, but it is not in very good condition and there must be scores of persons buried there for whom there are now no markers. The age of the cemetery is shown by the fact there are several quaint old sandstone head markers. The like of which are so often to be found in eastern cemeteries. In some cases all of the inscription was worn away.

(Another very old stone with some attempt to decorating it with lines).

Geo. Bock died July 2, 1812, aged 18 yrs. mos. 1 day.

(Two persons decided this date was the 1812 yet there was no permanent settlement in Vermilion county at this date.
Either the body has been moved here from another place, or the stone was placed as a memorial or the date is wrong.
It is possible it could be 1842 and the elements have worn away the other part of the 4. But close examination failed to show this was the case).

Sarah daughter of J. & S. J. Stewart, died March 11, 1860, aged 6 yrs. 6 mos. and 16 days.

Sacred to the memory of George Bock who died July 7, A. D.
1841, aged 33 years 3 mos. and 1 day.

Christina Wiggins, daughter of Wm. B. and Sally A. Shanks, died July 6, 1845, age 19 ? years.

Tradition says that Anna, wife of John Adams was the first person to be buried here in 1832.

Before this time some of the early pioneers had been buried on the "Ned" Martin farm, also on east side of the Bismark-Bowman Ave. road and about a quarter mile south of the Briarly cemetery. (William Adams, revolutionary soldier, is buried here).

These settlers of Newell township were William Adams, his wife Nancy (McCarty) Crook Adams. They were the parents of Samuel Adams.

Also, a Mrs. Martin, the mother of Edward, Ralph and Joseph Martin and of Nancy (Martin) Adams, wife of Samuel Adams. Several children were also buried here. These persons were the victims of an epidemic of "milk sickness".

ELWOOD CEMETERY

Located about four miles south and east of Georgetown, Vermillion County, Illinois. This is a Quaker burying ground. There is a church, dated 1895, near by, in good condition and has been used in the recent past. The cemetery when visited was most unkept, with much under brush, making it very hard to get through to the stones. Doubtless there are many persons buried here for whom there are no markers now and may never have been.

Malinda Harris, wife of Enos Cook, died 5th month, 7th day, 1897, aged 76 years 8 months and 9 days.

Eunice, wife of James Thomas, died Nov. 24, 1872, aged 31 yrs. 2 mos 20 ds.

Governor Bradford Chapter
Danville, Illinois

910 N.Oak St.
Danville, Illinois

Dear Sir:

This is in regard to "Tombstone Inscriptions of Ver-ion County, Illinois", compiled by Bertram French and completed by Florence Burt Launer for Governor Bradford Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution, Danville, Ill.
in 1946-47.

On page ⁷³~~55~~ the inscription from Lamb Cemetery includes this; "James Delay died June 1846-- aged 82 yrs. 12 da.
Father of William Delay."

The records from this cemetery also include William Delay and his wife Susanna and some of their children.
These are all close to-gether at the south edge of the cemetery.

Recently there was some confusion in research on the early Delay families of this county. this was partly caused by this statement that this James was the father of William.

The stone of James Delay reads "James Delay died June 1846 -- 22yrs.3mo.12da." It does NOT say he was the son of any one and it DOES NOT say he was the father of William. This stone is brokendiagonnally in two pieces; the lower edge of the upper portion was below the ground level and was set against the lower portion. The two pieces match perfectly and the inscription was very clear after the upper part was lifted and cleaned. There is no doubt That James Delay was 22 years old and NOT 82years.

This error is regretted very much and I want to make the correction lest some other person be led astray.

Sincerely.

Mary Hlea Carter

Committee, Governor Bradford
Chapter, D. A. R.

MOUNT PISGAH CEMETERY

Mount Pisgah Presbyterian church and cemetery lies three miles west of Georgetown, Vermillion County, Illinois. In the fifties, David Swank and Levi Long bought the site of the old cemetery and dedicated it for a burial grounds.

It had, however, been used for some 30 years prior to this time as a private burying grounds. It is said two graves were made in 1827 and earlier dates have been found. Mr. W. L. Long claims he found a stone with the date of 1822, but none of these earlier dates can now be located.

There are four markers of a very primitive nature. Cypress posts (on two of these in 1939) the inscriptions were scarcely legible.

In this cemetery are the marked graves of two soldiers of the War of 1812 and one of the Black Hawk War. There may be several other such graves but there are no stones or government markers.

Among the family names are Lyons, Hewitt, Jones, Swanks, Starr, Kidd, Gephart and Pontas.
